BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE CASE FOR VOIR DIRE

This is a civil case brought by plaintiff Leslie Grussing against defendants Orthopedic and Sports Medicine, Inc. and Corey Solman, Jr., M.D. This is a medical malpractice case involving an infection after an arthroscopic knee surgery performed on Ms. Grussing on June 26, 2014. The plaintiff alleges that Dr. Solman was negligent in failing to diagnose and treat a post-operative knee infection, causing Ms. Grussing's partial knee replacement to require conversion to a total knee replacement. Defendants contest liability, causation and damages.
